One-of-a-Kind Concerts

Within the countries of Europe it is becoming more and more self-evident: people with special needs do not just marginally take part in the cultural life, they ARE part of the music-cultural life themselves. The One-of-a-Kind Concerts as a part of Europa InTakt.2010 want to represent the rich diversity of the musical art, characterizing nowadays the artistic work with persons with special needs. Within these 6 concerts you will find a broad variety of different styles of music, showing that inclusive music-cultural work has no limits. Avant-garde, jazz and classical music, rock and bodypercussion, rhythm and ethno – all are included.

The opening concert on October 6th 2010 is starting with the premiere of a composition, written by Sascha Lino Lemke, a young and successful composer in Hamburg, for the French group "Les Percussions de Treffort" (www.resonancecontemporaine.org). This integrative music group sets standards of a high artistic level within the musical avant-garde in France for years. The danceperformance "Super" (www.ifm.fh-osnabrueck.de/30947.html) shows an almost real everyday life-story. What bodypercussion is and can do, will be presented by the artistic direction of the project "KeKeÇa" from Istanbul – their group "EEYO" will be seen on October 8th 2010 in the "Theater im Depot" in Dortmund. "A Bout'Souffle" (www.creahm.be) is an ensemble of brass instruments from Lüttich, which presents jazz, rock and funk.

The midday concerts will show, what the Ruhr aerea can do – integrative and international. "Spirit Steps" from Mülheim (www.eucra.de/theater.html) will rock you and Rendez-vous-des Tambours from Essen (www.myspace.com/rendezvousdestambours) makes the drums dance. Steel Pan from Dortmund (www.teachers-teelpan.de) will bring caribbean flair to the mensa and eventually a schoolpartnership between a school from Essen with partners from Poland show their "Experimentelle Archaik" in Dortmund (www.wks-essen.de/comenius01.htm).

The antique Propsteikirche in the heart of Dortmund houses mainly classical music on October 7th 2010. The "Hausmusikreis Linde" plays music from Renaissance and Baroque, using rebuilt historic instruments, and Katharina Reichelt, a young lady with Down Syndrom plays Cello solo. The group "Nachtigall", a group of pupils and teachers of a big institution from Budapest will present Hungarian folkmusic and a special Turkish-Hungarian song. Esagramma is an integrative orchestra coming from Milane, which has performed both in the European Parliament in Brussels and in front of the Pope.

The „Theater im Depot“ is the perfect place for bodypercussion from Turkey and rock-music from Denmark. EEYO is a group of deaf students from the Anadolu University of Eskişehir, which is producing music only with the body as an instrument, naturally a rhythmical orientated music. "Sounds of Progress" is a project from Glasgow (www.sop.org.uk), which is working integrative and intercultural since many years. Rock music from Denmark will be presented by the five members of the "Jacob-Jensen-Group" (www.o-p-popcorn.dk), which are already touring round Europe.

Europa InTakt believes, that with music everybody is intact. Get yourself convinced!
